DOCTOR MILEN CURES

Sexual Diseases

Men afflicted with diseases of the sexual sygans of any description who desire a specty and permanent cure should, without sear, commit Doctor Milen, the master specialist in diseases of men. There are many reasons why Doctor Milen cures where others in the study of diseases of the practical experience, to the study and experiment, has considered at the study and experiment, has enabled him to discourse and perfect original methods of treatment that have given him a romplete mantery over the state with uncessing study and experiment, has enabled him to discourse and perfect original methods of treatment to the state of the stat

Lawton was well backed to win the last race at Me. He showed dangerous speed for six furlongs and then chucked it up.

Mr. Huffman's Trio tooks like a good young one, though small and ratty in ap-pearance. She runs with beautiful action. Can she but pack the weight she will be heard of in stakes.

There has been a good deal of rough riding at the Fair Grounds not of the intentional sort, though. Some of the boys are so unsteady in the saddle that they would capsize the Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse if they could straddle her.

Houck is riding capitally. His skill won for Helen Print, and for all he let Belle Simpson get pinched on the rail he could scarce have handled her better. Houck and Combs seem boys of no mean class, even if we cannot believe that there are any good jockies left in America.

to beat the Woodlands filly by a neck. It seemed a deal of a pity that Bain could not used a fourth straight winner over when he representative was the best horse in the neet. The Missouri agriculturist who owns the filly felt very badly over her hard fortune. He was anxious to see Bain put another notch in his long record.

Country Geest Work on Forte.

If Combs lost the first race for Schreiber he certainly won the second for him. Forte had no business on earth besting Chopin on their marits. But Combs outrode Weber two to one and got first money by a nose. Weber, a composer himself, gave the horse with the musical name a fearfully had ride. He got him off well let him drop back, sent him up again, allowed him to wabble all over the track, drew his whip sed let him wabble some more. With all the Forte, who was beautifully handled at Jid end, fust managed to beat Chopin by a sees. Weber avidently did his best. Though not a Bloan, he is above such riding. Judge Brady might have taken cognizance of his stort without making himself oversessious. Though the best horse was beaten, this finish was the best of the meeting. Forte came from nowhere in the stretch, while the people were watching Chopin, Joe Doughty and lattle Bard fight it out. Combs, riding in the form, scared the life out of Weber, the slothered all over the horse. The energy of Forte's run through the stretch was remarkable, but if Weber had not allowed Chopin to verify mope and wander laws the last sixteenth, he could not have see.

America's Best

The most perfect of the purest type of whiskey is

The best for every need of whistery and everyone who needs whiskey needs the best.

Christopher Chinn, son of the famous Coinnel Jack of that clan, a true Kentucky horseman with a pedigree of his own as long as any in Colonel Bruce's book, joined the local turf contingent yesterday, bringing twenty-two horses, mostly 2-year-olds. Mr. Chinn brings Duelist, the best 2-year-old seen in Bt. Louis last year; Propeller, only a shade inferior, and many others. Mr. Chinn is quite a desirable acquisition to the local racing world. St. Louis is supposed to be an outlawed track. But where the Chinns race is sure to be the head of the turf world.

Jockey May's efforts on Sue Johnson and Nobieman entitle him to the parental supervision of Judge Brady. The boy performs so badly at times yet manages to win a good race so anexpectedly, even when riding in apparently bad form, that it is not easy to determine whether he is just naturally incapable ar inspiredly so. Even his best wins have been brought about in spite of remarkably unskillful riding that one cannet help thinking that to win under him a horse must be tons the best animal in the race. But he losses on so many good horses just when a seems, to a cartain extent, natural financial policy that the horse should lose, and then wins when it is apparently good policy that he should win, that one cannot help, wordering how such things happen. Judge Brady will find the youth an interesting study.

Prohibitive Price.

Louisville, Ky., May 3.—Miss Chaile, in the second event at Churchill Downs p-day, upset all calculations by winning with 25 to 1 chalked up against her. The withdrawal of General Mart Gary from the third race left only three starters to face the flag with the Unknown, held at the prohibitive figures of 1 to 4. He did not disapplint, winning easily from Bangle, who ran vecond.

Talla Forso Good on First Out.

With a change of jockles from Wallace to Combs. Wax Taper, bad legs and hard track to the contrary notwithstanding, was made favorite in the fourth race. Captain Rice bet on him and proudly displayed the tickets. Talla Forso looked like the class of the race, but it was her first start, and no one knew how fit she was. Mr. Huffman was making his reputation as a winner of first outs and the mare was cherry ripe. She ran in front all the way, winning as she pleased. Wax Taper did his best and came in second. Mr. Brady missed Jockey May's exhibition on Nobleman, who should have been third, if not second. He was backed heavily to show, and had May given him any kind of a ride he could not have falled to get the show money. He was running like a winner up the back stretch, was eased up at the stable turn, pulled wide into the strotch and allowed to merely canter home under the very eyes of the judges. Hobart ran quite a nice race here. Pinochie, a star of last year, was fat and unready, but was backed to best Danagher from Ze to 12. He ran a lasy race into third place. At that, & to 1 against a horse of his class was enough to provoke any gambler into risking a 25 bill, if he had it about him.

Dandy Jim was the favorite in the fifth race. Bowen was the better horse and won handilly. Bowen gave Dandy Jim an ugly pinching at the clubhouse turn, but that made no difference. Miss Aubrey ran a fine race here. She showed speed, and though evidently short, ran a distance on her courage.

There was a huge plunge on Hurry in the last rece for the race here. She showed speed, and though evidently short, ran a distance on her courage.

With three horses winning first time out, Mr. Huffman's status must be accorded a niche in the Westminster Abbey of the turf with those of John Forter, Enoch Wishard, Jimmie Rowe, Byron McClelland and Henry Linde. It was a great performance. Yet Mr. Huffman felt that Hurry had the best chance of all his horses, and Hurry was lucky not to be last.

Jim Scanlan is about the homeliest horse ever seen on the turf. He is a grayish roan and thrown together in a careless way. He is named for a former protect of Tossilisson's Jim Scanlan, a pugilist notable for the number of times other pugilists broke his jew. Mr. Scanlan's lower maxiliary has spent more than two-thirds of the last four years in plaster casts.

CHICAGO BENCH SHOW.

Interstate Field Trial Club Formed to Establish a New Stake.
Reports from the Chicago Bench Show this week indicate that the entries in setters, pointers and coilies were very fine and numerous. In cocker spaniels there was a choice lot. Big dogs seem to have fallen into disfavor. Mastlifts have almost disappeared. The St. Bernard class was poor and the Great Dane class still worse. Ledy Cols, from Kanasa City, a winner in New York, won the cup for the best Raglish setter of sitter ser. Oakley Esil won first in the field trial class. M. Guthrie of Maxico, Mo., showed Vic's Vic, but she was too fat and out of cost and could not get above Queen's Flee Price, the Boston Wanner, and the well known Miss Medicate. By equal condition she would have run Lade Cols a close most. Marle's
